S/MIME certificates allow you to sign and encrypt emails.	Code Signing certificates allow you to sign applications and software.	Domain-validated certificates (DV) are the entry-level variants of SSL certificates.	Organization validated certificates (OV) provide extended SSL protection.	Extended validated certificates (EV) provide the highest authentication standard.
 Prevents manipulation of emails Enables a secure communication Verifies authorship of the sender Ensures message privacy Issued in 2 days 	 Prevents compromised software downloads Prevents tampering Provides authentication Digital signature for file downloads 	 Encryption Validation of the domain control Lock displayed in the browser bar Issued within minutes 	 Authentication of the company Proof of the right to use the domain Company information shown in the certificate Issued in 1-2 days 	 Strict industry standard authentication for companies Green browser bar (depends on browser, usually no longer practiced) Issued in 2-4 days
